Targeted Advertising Campaigns

Another great benefit of OrganicAssistant.com is the ability to capture and store information about the consumers who register on the site. A range of information is collated from the particular organic products they search for and is tied to their postcode area. This is a great way of targeting your advertising spend. We can organise E-mail, Fax, Direct Mail and SMS advertising campaigns for you. These can target either a broad group of organic consumers or particular groups within the organic industry, such as certified producers and processors. We can also offer a marketing report service for E-mail campaigns so you can see how successful you have been (our click through rate so far is excellent!)
